THE NATIONAL REPEBLICAN

The next Union Republican National Convention for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president of the United States, will be held in the city of Cincinnati, Wednesday, the 14th of June, 1876, at 12 o'clock noon, and will consist of delegates from each State equal to twice the number of its senators and representatives in congress. hatt, Wednesia, the time the number of its sensitors and representatives in congress, and of two delegates from each organized territory and the District of Columbia.

In the calling of conventions for the election of delegates, committees of the several States are recommended to invite all republican electors and all other voters, without regard to past political differences or previous party affiliations; who are opposed to reviving sectional issues and desire to promote friendly feelings and permanent harmony throughout the country, by enforcing and maintaining all constitutional rights of every citisen, including full and free exercise of the right of suffrage, without intimidation and fraud; who are in favor of continued prosecution and punishment of all official dishonesty and of an economical administration of the government by honest, faithful and capable officers; who are in favor of making such reforms in the government as experience may from time to time suggest; who are opposed to impairing the credit of the nation by depreciating any of its obligations, and in favor of sustaining in every way the national faith and financial honor; who hold that the common school system is the nursery of American liberty, and should be maintained absolutely free from sectarian control; who believe that to the promotion of these ends the direction of the government should continue to be confided; to those who adhere to the principles of 1776 and support them as incorporated in the constitution and laws, and who are in favor of recognizing and strengthening the fundamental principle of national unity in this centennial annivarsary of the birth of the republic. PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, Congress passed a joint resolu-tion approved March 13, 1876, recommending the people of the several States, that they assemble in their several counties or towns on the approaching coatennial anniversary of our National Independence, and that they cause to have delivered on such day, an historical sketch of said county or town from its formation, and that a copy of such sketch may be filed in print or manuscript in the clerk's office of said county, and ar an the clerk's office of said county, and an additional copy in print or manuscript be filed in the office of librarian of congress to the intent, that a complete record may thus be obtained of the progress of our institutions during the first centennial of their ex-tions during the first centennial of their exstence.

Therefore, in compliance with such resolution. I do recommend that the people of this State assemble in their several towns and counties on the 4th day of July, 1876, and that they cause to have delivered an historical sketch of said town or county from ifs formation, and that copies thereof be filed in the office of the county elerk of said county, and in the office of the librarian of congress, as by said resolution requested.

In testumony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great veal of the State of Nebraska.

THE city of Denver has appropriated $3,000 toward the centennial 4th of July celebration.

A GREAT many insults have been heaped upon Mr. Frederick Douglass during his life time, but none perhaps so hard to be borne as sending him to Cincinnati in company with Boss Shepherd.

THE effort to employ Chinese cheap labor at North Adams, Mass., has proved a failure. It will be a long time before another attempt will be made to import these | ed by a majority of 1,148. almond-eyed orientals to take the place of skilled mechanics.

IF Postmaster General Jewell would devote a little more time to investigating into the number of useless sub-officials in the mail service and reduce some of the $4,000 postoffice salaries to rates proporcionate with those of citizens in mercantile and other vocations, there might be no occasion for Congress to increase newspaper postal

In the past few days we have received numerous letters from various sections of the State containing hearty expressions of approval at the fearless course of the BEE in exposing dishonesty and trickery. These letters, in the face of the malicious personal libels hurled at its Editor by those engaged in the defense of public plunderers and political knaves, are a source of considerable pride to us. They bear evidence that the masses are awakening to a realization of their interests and propose to take an active part henceforth in the political affairs of the State. The extract from the correspondence in the last issue of tive Grand Island Independent that appears on the third page, is one of a large number of letters of the same character that are appearing in our State exchanges.

IT is currently reported that the Omaha Republican is about to embark in another new departure Instead of advocating Senator Hitchcock's claims for re-election. which has been found to be up-hill work, the managers now propose to the present at least drop his name altogether. This, it is expected, will enable them to rope in a large number of deluded followers, whom they expect to influence in favor of legislative candidates, supposed to be either unpledged or inclined to follow a third party, who, if Hitchcock cannot make the ripple, is to be the recipient of his strength. In other words there is to be an alliance between the two

WOOL MANUFACTURING.

An exclusively agricultural community can never become wealthy or populous. This is a proposition which we do not propose to discuss, for the truth of it will appear to any one who will stop to reason upon the subject. There are many kinds of manufacturing which never can be made profitable in this State, among which are all those that depend for their success on cheap fuel. We cannot dig our crude material from the mines, or cut it in the forest. We must produce it in some other way. It must be wool, hides,

Salt Creek, the have numerous water powers, with-Omaha, which would run large woolen mills all the year around, and give employment to thousands of workman, who, on account of the cheapness of western produce, could lay up money upon the salaries upon which they now drag out a miserable existence in the overcrowded villages of the east, where every article of food is brought hundreds of miles from these western prairies for their consumption, of freight. Aiready Illinois and Iowa have utilized the few water powers those States possess for the manufacture of woolen goods, besides large numbers of mills which run by steam, many of which import a large part of their raw material from Colorado, New Mexico and South Ameri-

All that is wanted to make the fame and wealth of Nebraska, as a manufacturing State, is to improve the advantages which nature has

UNCERTAINTIES OF POLITICS. The New York Times considers the result of the Presidential campaign as not altogether certain to the Republicans in the event of an dential ticket. New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, the six most populous States of the Union, are all more or less dependent for victory to the Republican party on the character of the candidates no...in- peared in the newspapers, from thus reviews the situation :

"Take first our own State. It cannot be carried by a candidate whose record will not bear inspection. In 1872 Governor Dix had a majority of 53,451 over so good man as Senator Kernan. In 1873 no Republicans were elected except those who received the support o the Liberal Republicans. In 1874 Gov. Tilden had 50,317 majority over Gov. Dix, and in 1875 the Democratic State ticket received an average majority of about fifteen

Pennsylvania is a State of uncerain politics. Though Gen. Grant had 137,548 majority over Mr. Greeley in 1872, two years later the Democrats elected the Lieutenant Governor by a majority of 4,679, and Gov. Hartranft's majority last year was only 12,030, or two per cent of the whoie number votes. Ohio is also a State which the Republicans cannot afford to experiment with. The majority last year against Gov. William Allen was only 5,544, and in 1873 that worthy was elected by 817 votes. There was a Democratic majority in 1874 for Secretary of State of 17,202.

Indiana, two years ago, was carried by the Democrats by 17,252 votes. Grant's majority in 1872 was but 22,515, and in October of that year Gov. Hendricks was elect-

It may strike some Republicans as ridiculous to call Illinois doubtful under any circumstances, but at the last election, two years ago, the Republicans were le't in a minority in both Lrauches of the Legislature, and their candidate for superintendent of Public Instruction was defeated by 30,506 votes. There were three parties in the field. The vote for treasurer gave the republican strength as 163,024, that of the "oposition at 128,169, and of the reformers at 75,580. Of course, there is a complete change in the political situation since 1874, but who knows what further changes there may

THE Minneapolis and St. Paul ournals are having a very animated discussion as to the relative population of the two cities. According to the Minneapolis Tribune, the late directories of both cities give as the result 10,999 names to Minneapolis, and and 9,927 in St. Paul population. This, allowing 31 to each name, leaves Minneapolis 3,749 ahead. And now the St. Paul people charge the compilers with having leaned toward the side which patronized them most, which seems to be Minneapolis.

THERE has been a loud call for tics, and not let the bummers run the political parties, on which the Chicago Times gets off the following sharp squib:

The demand for "business men in fpolitics" should not be emphasized. What with buying and selling of delegations and all sorts of political trading it seems that there are too many "business men in polities already.

The report is a very voluminous document, and though the direct charges made therein are few, a number of very serious offences by former officials are more than hinted at. It is, however, charged that the city, which for several years controlled the entire liquor trade here, and did an extensive busmess in its manufacture, deover railroads charging heavy rates frauded the government to the amount of about $60,000 by the nonpayment of internal revenue tax. At the time that these frauds were perpetrated, the population of this city was almost entirely Mormon, and the leaders of that church endeavored to combat intemperance by persuading the city authoritie o take entire charge of the trade in intoxicating liquors, and for several years the only place where liquor could be obtained was at the too abundant for the welfare of the community. Unfortunately the gentlemen of the committee have not confined their report to what they found on city books, which they acknowledge are carefully and intelligently kept by experienced accountants, but they have interwoven therein common street rumor, and by putting "this and unwise selection upon the Presi- that together" after a manner most agreeable to themselves, have come to some rather startling conclusions. But the mischief is that these rumors prove to be untrue, and doubt thus thrown on all the statements made by the committee.

The writers claimed that A band of genuine Calthornipians the report so far as it related to them, was conspicuously inexact, and proof was brought forward to substantiate their statements. Amongst those who publicly deny the veracity of the report are Col. Ellerbeck, Superintendent of the City Gas Company; Messrs. Clawson and Carne, whilom lessees of the Salt Lake Theatre, and Hon. Geo. C. Bates, ex-U. S. Prosecuting Attorney. Ever since the publication of the report party feeling has run high on the subject, and it can-not be denied that the unqualified contradiction of so many statements therein by well-knewn citizens has had the effect of causing the whole to be regarded as a very questionable document. Some of the parties whose names have been as they claim, unwarrantably dragged into notice to their injury are already talking of instituting libel suits, on the ground that the report is malicious and intentionally untruthful. I find, however, that the document has had one most unexpeeted effect. It has increased confidence in the present city government, for many argue that admitting everything contained therein, that has not yet been disapproved is true, then the facts are so much better than it had been previously rumored, that they believe a change of administration would be an evil rather than a blessing. Leaving outside the charge of crooked whisky transactions, it is generally admitted that the funds of the city have been economically disbursed and strictly accounted for, and the members of the city council receive no pay for their services. Of the five daily papers published in this city, three take this view of the matter. It is generally anticipated that the grand jury will indict ex-Mayor Wells. He is now in Arizona, but may be expected back in a fortnight or three weeks. The sentiments of those who are net entirely carried away by religious partizanship are, "Let no guilty man escape," be he Mormon or gentile, but give General Wells and others implicated an impartial trial, and if they are mnocent, let it be known. I fear, however, that the whole business will be so overshadowed and complicated with technicalities, as is almost always the case with legal matters in Utah, that it will be difficult to arrive at the bottom facts. In the mean time the matter will be made a cause for religious wrangling; the Mormon papers will claim it is another phase of persecution and bigotry, while the Tribune will accept every statement as proven facts, and jubiliate over the discovery of will no doubt evolve the truth or falsity of the now notorious report

The future of our town is certainly ominous of success and importance. There is country enough contiguous to her to push her forward to the front rank and sustain her in that position.
